Editor’s Note

Change is the only constant! At NSN, we welcome anything that will bring an improvement in the quality of education that we provide to our students. Some things, however, never change! Mother’s love, the beauty of nature, the joy of seeing a child smile, the love that we nurture, the friendships we cherish and all the little pebbles of happiness that we collect in the journey called LIFE! At NSN, we never miss an opportunity to spread love and cheer, to make children feel grateful for what they have and make them feel confident about who they are. Amidst all the changes we go through, let us also, as adults remember the little joys of life, continue to keep spreading love and bring a smile to every face we meet. Technology is evolving every nano second, let our constants define the real person that we are. #love# happiness#joy #getvaccinated#staysafe Signing Off

“English should remain a medium of instruction, as it connects us with each other and the world”

In a rapidly advancing world, to preserve the worth of every language while at the same time communicate effectively, translators would serve the best in my opinion. English (as a medium of communication) is NOT necessary.
Apsaraa R,
XI A1

As the world is increasingly globalized, students should be taught in the international language which is currently- English. It gives them a chance of survival out in a different place. It helps us come out of our place as well as provides us with a chance of grabbing various opportunities which they may yearn for!
